FOUR-H CLUB FEEDERS MAKE PROFIT.

Experiments are useful both in demonstrating whether an enterprise is economically profitable or an economic failure; if the latter, to be avoided in future; if the former, to be followed. Progress is made when a system of operation is developed which, if followed up under the same conditions, will prove profitable to those pursuing the enterprise.
That is the purpose behind the government's form demonstration work.
Such an experiment reached its culmination at the recent 4-H Club Fat Stock show here March 18th.
According to figures furnished by County Agent C. M. Merritt, there were 42 calves exhibited, judged and afterwards sold at auction by Medina County 4-H Club boys and girls. The average record of these calves as a lot, for the 200-days feeding period, was as follows:
Weight at beginning ..... 437 1-6 lbs.
Weight at end of period ..... 919 1-6 lbs.
Gain per calf ..... 482 lbs.
Net cost per calf (including market value at 3c at start of feeding period and all costs of feed and care) ..... $30.58
Net average profit each calf ..... 17.18 1-3
There were 62 head of pigs, placed in the show. Following are the averages for the entire lot.
Average wt. at beginning ..... 90 1-2 lbs.
Average wt. at close ..... 217 1-2 lbs.
Gain per pig ..... 127 lbs.
The total cost of the lot including purchase price at market quotations at 1 1-2c per pound at beginning of feeding period, feed, labor and miscellaneous expenses ..... $200.26
Total amount received at sale ..... 473.78
Net profit above all costs on lot ..... 272.52
These pigs were fed for a period of 60 days and made an average gain of better than two pounds per day.
In addition to the proceeds of the sale of the animals and the premiums, each boy and girl exhibiting was given a prize of $1.00, making a total of $64.00 distributed among them.
There was taken in at the gate $26.40 and the following contributed their respective amounts to the premium fund:
The First National Bank, $5.00; W. J. Nester, $1.00; John Zuberbuehler, $1.00; Barnitz Carle, 50c; J. E. Schneider, 50c; E. R. Leinweber, 50c; Green Tag Store, 50c; M. ### METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

The revival is moving forward in a great way, the attendance is increasing with every service. The great group of young people that was in attendance Wednesday night was a wonderful sight to see in Hondo. The special nights, the one for men, and also the one for women, were a great success. All together for the few remaining services may we make them the best of the meeting. Over 50 people have been forward taking a stand for the Lord Jesus. There should be one hundred more before the last service Sunday night.
The goal has been set for 350 in Sunday School in the two co-operating churches Sunday morning. May we each one do our utmost to attain this goal. It can be done. We especially hope to see every Methodist in church Sunday morning and night. We should have at least 200 in Sunday school. You can help to reach that goal. If you have not been in the meeting, by all means do not miss the remaining part of it. You are missing more than you can possibly realize if you have not been coming. Help to make Sunday a great day in the religious life of Hondo.

Pastor.

15TH DISTRICT EYES SUCCESSOR TO JOHN GARNER.

BROWNSVILLE, March 26—(Sp.) For the first time in 30 years Democrats of the Fifteenth congressional district Sunday contemplated the unique experience of sending a Democrat to congress other than their beloved John N. (Cactus Jack) Garner.
It was John Garner, now vice president of the United States, who created the Fifteenth, and largest district in the Lone Star State.
It is Milton H. West, a rangy, red-headed Texan, whose voice draws, who has been nominated to succeed Mr. Garner. True, West has yet to hurdle a special election, April 22, against Carlos Watson, assistant United States district attorney, the Republican-independent nominee. But the Democratic nomination in the Fifteenth district is generally regarded as tantamount to election.
Born in Gonzales.

West's rise to political prominence in the so-called "Little Empire" of John Garner was not a skyrocket affair. He came up slowly. He is 44, and 30 years ago he was milking part of the town cowherd in Floresville, Wilson county, to earn money for school supplies. There were no free text books in Texas when Milton West was a school boy.
West was born near Gonzales, June 30, 1888. He lived there, only in infancy however, since his parents removed to Floresville, where West, because of his cow-milking prowess, earned the nickname which still he bears: "Leche", the Spanish noun for milk.

Reticent About Self.

West does not like to talk of himself. That is why Davenport, who has known West for 20 years, tells most of this character story.
"Milton's career turned, probably," Davenport said, "on a quick but patriotic decision of his early manhood. He was 22 and had just been graduated from West Texas Military academy of San Antonio, through which he worked his way. Having distinguished himself in military tactics at the school, Milton was offered a commission as second lieutenant in the Canadian Northwest mounted police. He declined."
"Milton told me years later," Davenport continued, "that he was not even tempted. He realized the romance and the glamor of the royal mounted, he explained, but the Texas rangers drew him irresistibly. So he

THE FLOWERS' REVIVAL.

Seldom has Hondo witnessed such interest in the church as she is seeing today. The Flowers' revival sponsored by the Baptist and Methodist churches has attracted large crowds from the beginning and this week has been much better than the week before. Around three hundred people have attended the day time services and the night crowds have taxed the Methodist church. Special services daily have been conducted for the different groups. The daily meetings of the women at the church was the largest attendance of any of the special groups. Around 125 ladies were in these morning services.
Saturday night will be farmers' night. Evangelist Flowers has announced that he would give a five gallon can of gasoline to the farmer that drives the farthest to meeting on Saturday night. Sunday morning the subject will be "Gratitude". Sunday at 6:45 a great round-up of young folk will be held and that will be the last of the young folk's service. The last meeting will be held Sunday night. Monday morning The Flowers leave early for El Paso where they will conduct a series of meetings.

enlisted in Company C of the famous frontier battalion of the Texas Rangers under captain J. M. Fox, with whom he served until 1912.

Served as Ranger.

"Ranger work," Davenport explained, "threw Milton in contact with legal practices, and he determined to read law. In order to have something to offer in a law office while he studied, Milton schooled himself in stenography and entered the law office of Judge James A. King, and some years later came into the firm of Davenport, West and Ransome."

Davenport added that West practiced law as well in the office of the late Judge James B. Wells, his first association after locating in Brownsville from Floresville.

"It was in the intervening years," said Davenport, "between his practice with Judge Wells and his recently resigned membership in the Texas legislature, that he became, in turn, assistant district attorney, and district attorney."

Native Texan.

"Milton himself," Davenport went on, "is a native Texan of the fourth generation. On his father's side he is a great-grandson of Claiborne West, signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence; member of the "constitutional convention held at Washington-on-the-Brazos, March 1836, a soldier at San Jacinto and a member of the first congress of the Republic of Texas."

"Milton's mother is a granddaughter of General Cocke, one of the earlier United States senators from Tennessee, who served with Sam Houston and under Andrew Jackson in the Creek war of 1813. Milton is of pioneer stock, and he, himself, pioneered his way in the district of which he is congressional nominee. He has ridden the range as a cowboy and ranger and really forsook a professional baseball career, which he was offered, for the legal bar."

West is 6 feet 3 inches tall, of rangy build, wide shouldered, narrow hips, his hair is sandy, verging on red, and his eyes are gray. His jaws jut wilfully and his tongue is aspic on the stump or floor when roused by political attack or by debate. Old timers of the "famous fifteenth" says of him that he is a worthy successor to John Garner.

"All I want to be," West says, "is a willing and working recruit in the ranks of Roosevelt and Garner."

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

When Spurgeon, the renowned English preacher, made his last journey to Mentone, he is said to have remarked to a visitor: "My theology has become uncommonly simple. It may be embodied in four little words and satisfies me completely. It may not suffice for preaching but it does suffice for dying. These words are: Jesus died for me."
This faith is certainly sufficient for dying—and therefore also eminently suitable to live by. No one can have this firm, Rock-of-Ages faith and not devote his life in loving service to God and his fellow-men.
In this Lenten Season we are meditating upon the sufferings and death of our Master Jesus Christ. By this we are desirous of better fitting ourselves to live a useful life to God's glory, and to die a blessed death.
Come and worship with us Wednesday night at 8 P. M. when the Sixth Word from the cross, "It is Finished", will be solemnly meditated upon. Our Sunday morning service will be held in the English language beginning at 10:30.
In Holy Week the Seventh Word from the Cross will be the subject for the Wednesday night service. On Good Friday morning beginning at 10 o'clock there will be German service with the celebration of Holy Communion.
The Ladies' Aid Society will meet, unless otherwise announced, at the home of Mrs. Jacob Karm and Mrs. George Karm on Wednesday, April 5, at 2:30 P. M. A good attendance is desired.
REV. W. LEIBFARTH.
COMING ATTRACTIONS.
The Colonial management announces the following coming attractions during April: Walter Huston and Constance Cummings in "American Madness"; Claudette Colbert and Frederic March in "Tonight is Ours"; "Down to Earth" with Will Rogers; and Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in "Tess of the Storm Country".

MEDINA COUNTY COUNCIL MEETS.

The Medina County Council convened at Maverick School District No. 19 on Saturday, March 25, at 2:00 P. M. The attendance was good. Rio-medina, Burrell, Dunlay, Seco, Maverick, and Hondo had delegates representing their P. T. A's at the council. The program was complete and carried out in its entirety. Maverick is noted for its community spirit and social activities. The selection of music by local talent was much enjoyed and appreciated by the audience. Mr. Clyde Mangold with his violin, accompanied by Mrs. Milton Wurzbach on the piano, played "Iris" by Pierre Renard; and Miss Tusnela Wurzbach with her violin, accompanied by her sister, Miss Renata Wurzbach, on the piano, played "La Cinquantain" by Zamecnik. These artists are taking violin with their regular school courses from instructors who have studied abroad and are familiar with the technique of that instrument. The piano solo by Mrs. Milton Wurzbach was well rendered, likewise that of Miss Norma Wurzbach; both demonstrated that artistic touch so essential in producing those harmonious and melodious tones that thrill the soul. Mrs. Julius Wurzbach sang "A Song of Spring" by W. H. Neidlinger, and swayed her audience with her beautiful soprano. Little Miss Marie Dorothy Steinhilb held the audience spellbound for a while with her aerobic performance. She is wonderful.
Prof. Howard of Alamo Heights spoke on the seven cardinal objectives of the National P. T. A. program. These objectives, and broadened the field of usefulness and of greater activities of every day life. He stressed the great need of co-operation of community and home with the school in creating proper attitudes in the minds of the children for an education. Good health, good citizenship, worthy home membership tend to build character; white broken homes, social piques and disregard for law create delinquencies, destroy responsibilities and hope of the child. Parents should supervise the leisure time of their children, and guard them against those things that tend to destroy life and character.
Supt. Johnson spoke on "what we may give and what we may leave to our children". The greatest heritage would be to teach them how to live together in home and community, and the best asset left by parents to their children is a good name. The common virtue of honesty should form the basis of education upon which the institutions of learning that turn out a better product than decades ago, stand. Inculcate the hearts and minds of the youth of our schools obedience of law and order. Develop in them the fiber and finish for a good personality, because it is essential; a good character, pure thoughts which inspire nobler deeds and greater achievements.
Mrs. E. J. Leinweber spoke briefly of the important work done by the doctors of the county in stamping out diphtheria and the splendid co-operation of the Parent-Teacher Associations of the schools in assisting in "putting over" this work.
The next meeting of the Council will be in Hondo. The Council has extended an invitation to State Superintendent Woods to meet them.
At the conclusion of the exercises the ladies of the Maverick School served a splendid course of chicken salad, saltine crackers, cake and coffee. We thank you for your splendid entertainment.

TRUSTEES.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Medina.
TO ALL WHOM THIS MAY CONCERN:
Notice is hereby given that there will be held an Election on Saturday, the 1st day of April, 1933, in all school districts throughout Medina County, Texas, at the same time and places designated for the holding of common school district trustee elections in compliance with an order of the County Judge of said County, and the polls in said district shall be opened at 8 o'clock a. m., and shall not be closed before 7 o'clock p. m. on said day, for the purpose of electing one County School Trustee, at large; and one County School Trustee from Commissioners Precinct No. 4.
Said election will be held by the officers appointed to hold the election for Common School District Trustees.
R. J. NOONAN,
County Judge, Medina County, Texas.

TO THE VOTERS OF MEDINA COUNTY.

Let me express my deep appreciation for the loyal support of my many friends in Medina County in the recent primary election. Too bad it is impossible for me to see the voters face to face and express personally this appreciation. Since that is impossible, this method is adopted.
The friends we made in a campaign are more important than success at the ballot boxes. The loyalty of my friends and supporters in this campaign will always be one of the fine things in my experience.
Let me call upon the believers in good government in the 15th District to arouse themselves to the danger of unscrupulous machine politics and to fortify themselves with the power to destroy the same by paying poll taxes next December and January.
Assuring you of my eternal gratitude for your splendid support, I remain, Yours sincerely,
GORDON GRIFFIN.

BETTER TIMES ARE COMING!

Dr. Stephen I. Miller, director of Economics for R. G. Dun & Co., New York, believes that business conditions in the United States are going to show a 20 per cent improvement in 1933 over 1932—and he gave his reasons for this belief last Friday in one of the most interesting talks made before the Rotary Club in many a day.

It was downright heartening—particularly right now—to hear a man speak with conviction about the business and economic outlook, a subject on which a good many of us are considerably muddled. He talked "horse sense" in explaining why the country is in the doldrums and in pointing the way to recovery.

While he thinks the upturn has started, Dr. Miller sounded a warning that business men must assume their proper responsibility ethically if it is to continue. That responsibility includes eliminating the $12,000,000, 000 waste that is taking place in America annually. Part of that waste, by inference, may be in the cost of government, for the speaker stated emphatically that the government should get out of business and stay out. Nor has he any patience with the idea of extending additional governmental credit to groups that are already producing surpluses.

But to get back to Dr. Miller's statement that business is going to be 20 per cent better in 1933. That should bring hope and cheer to all of us. He gave five reasons for his belief.

1. The bank holiday was a godsend.
It means restoration of public confidence. It also means that there will be a thorough house cleaning in the banking system of the United States.
2. Liquidation is going to continue until business has been placed on an efficient basis. In this connection, the opinion was expressed that the railroads probably could lop off 50, 000 miles of track and still do a good job of serving the country. The difference would be in their sounder financial condition.

3. Conversation is going to be held with Great Britain and perhaps other foreign powers. The result of these negotiations will be a broader and better international understanding.
Dr. Miller regards Secretary of State Hull as a man eminently qualified for his important post.

4. The big task of balancing the national budget has been gotten under way. It is imperative that this be accomplished as quickly as possible, for the government is now dipping into the credit pot at the rate of from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 a day. In Dr. Miller's opinion, the big problem of keeping income and outgo in their proper relation is better suited to a dictator than to congressmen and senators.

5. There will be no inflation of currency. But there will be increased buying activity as public confidence continues to grow and prices will then start going up.

Before Dr. Miller drew his conclusions as to what the immediate future holds in store, he painted a graphic word picture of this country's economic structure. It is a highly interdependent structure and consequently is keenly sensitive to anything that tends to upset its equilibrium. And as everyone knows, plenty of things have been happening.

In the complicated operation of business of today, Dr. Miller likened gold to the pilot house of a great ocean liner. The ship appears to be steered by turning a wheel in the pilot house. In reality the wheel merely transmits orders to a powerful machine in the hold and this machine actually supplies the power to move the rudder. So, in business, gold works through a machine known as credit—and the wheels go around.
Credit is like dynamite; it can do a lot of good and likewise it is capable of being mighty dangerous. Gold has a tenfold power when translated into terms of credit.

An interesting light on the situation of today was Dr. Miller's statement that gold mining has taken on new life. And why shouldn't it? Having a fixed value, gold will buy more where prices are down and all other business is bad. Companies making gold mining machinery are busier than they have been for twenty years.
A highly inter-dependent business system, such as ours, must be continuous. It goes on producing more and more. Capital piles up and must be given employment. And that leads to complications.

Again, the broad demands of living in the United States can only be satisfied by a huge capital outlay.
Automobiles, radios, telephones and scores of other items are an accepted part of our high standard of living.
Consequently, when things go wrong, we are worse off than the people of other countries. We have farther to fall.

Instability of the measure of value causes no end of trouble to business in attempting to sail along on an even keel. While other measures are fixed —such as the weight of a pound and the length of a foot—the measure of value fluctuates right merrily.
This instability has led to wide diversification in the United States.
Industry has developed along horizontal lines, with various branches entering fields foreign to their original operations and scrapping for whatever business they can find.

Getting back to 1933, Dr. Miller strongly advised against any effort on the part of the federal government to raise $5,000,000,000 for a public works program as a means of relieving unemployment. He was also caustic in his criticism of the policy which makes it necessary that publicity be given to Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans, characterizing such publicity as one of the chief causes of the trouble in which the banks found themselves recently.

It Takes More Than Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, or Laxative Pills to Arouse a Sluggish Liver

They Give Only Temporary Relief From Constipation and Biliousness, Because They Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile

Bile is nature's own laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, putrefaction, gas and disease germs.

When your liver becomes torpid or sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels.
The blood absorbs these poisons,
and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills will remove the cause of this condition and purify your entire system in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative at all.

Five years ago it was generally believed that calomel and laxative drugs stimulated the liver, but modern science has proved that calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils and other laxatives have no effect whatever on the liver.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills act directly on the liver because they

YOUNG FOLK, LISTEN, THIS SHOULD INTEREST YOU.

This should be interesting news to you. Byrne College is continuing to place its graduates in positions. Fourteen have been placed during the past five weeks. Don't you wish you had been one of them? Well you can be one of twenty we will place during July if you will enroll with us between now and the first of April. What else can you do the next three months that will place you on the pay roll in a nice office where there is opportunity for advancement?

Byrne College has many advantages in placing its well trained graduates. We wish we had space in this article to tell you of the many ways we have of securing employment, but we haven't so we invite you to come to our office and let us tell you about it.

Just think what you are going to be up against ten or twenty years from now if you do not equip yourself with a modern business education. Write us how soon you believe you can be with us, and state if you prefer us to get your spare time work to earn your board and room. State the largest amount you can pay down on the purchase price of your scholarship, and how much you can pay monthly thereafter until the full amount is paid, or if you cannot make monthly payments while in school, state what size of monthly payments you can make beginning, say, six weeks after your course. Or, if there is some other plan of payment you prefer, please state it. If you have the cash, or can raise it and pay cash for your scholarship, we will make you a discount that will interest you. It will far more than pay the interest the bank would charge you or anyone else from whom you might borrow the money.

Let Byrne College train and place you. Time that is not valuable to you now can be invested in a business education at Byrne College and made the means of winning your independence and starting you on the road to a successful career. Phelix W. Roberson, 93, a native of Marion County, Ga., but a citizen of Medina County since 1876, died at his farm home near Devine early Friday; survived by his second wife, 4 children and many great and great great grandchildren. His first wife died in 1886, and about 1891 he was married to Mrs. Leticia Dart, who survives. The children are William of Devine; Thomas of Three Rivers; Mrs. Wesley Crawford of Natalia and Mrs. John Cox of Del Rio. On Feb. 6th there was a family reunion and dinner at the farm home, and the News gave a full list of the descendants. Deceased was a charter member of the Devine Methodist church; was received into the church by Rev. John Wesley De Vilbiss, a well known pioneer minister some of whose children Pearsall. The funeral was conducted Friday afternoon from the Methodist church here, Pastor A. M. Foster, conducting, with the writing taking part. He served through the Confederate War and was an uncompromising Democrat with strong Southern feelings engendered by a long service for what he believed was right, as viewed by Jefferson Davis and other Southern leaders. He was a modest, successful farmer, an honest man and always stood for what he thought was right, regardless of public opinion. The world was better by his living and poorer by his home-going.

QUIHI NOTES.

But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint. Is. 40:31.

The strongest find this world and their daily allotment quite often wearisome, vexing, fatiguing. Many break under the strain, trusting their iron constitution, waiting for hidden resources. Others drag on under dares of routine, helpless, hopeless. The prophet shows the way out. He traveled it. Stop the chase and get in touch with the fount of real strength, to revive, to rise above the choking atmosphere of daily humdrum, as Christ did it on the lonely mountain top in prayer. And then, walk or run, renewed strength, mysteriously supplied, will keep you from fainting in heart and soul.

Reward pins for faithfulness in Sunday School attendance were distributed to Mabel Lindeburg, Lillian Hartmann, Annie and Nora Brucks, Lester Saathoff and Edna and Arnold Loessberg. A dozen or so more will be awarded the same distinction in the near future. These rewards grow in importance and appreciation as time rolls on. May the love for the house of God and a godly life grow in proportion.

The Luther League Program on April the 9th will contain, among many other numbers, select readings by the Messrs. Arnold Reitzer and Eimer Nietenhoefer, declamations by Mr. Lewis Boehle and Miss Annie Loessberg, vocal selections by the Misses Lucille Bohlen and Della Hartmann, instrumental selection by Mrs. Andrew Schweers and the male chorus selection by Mr. Clarence Daily. We are looking forward for voluntary numbers. Try to reserve your evening for this occasion. You're welcome.

The Ladies' Aid will meet on Thursday, April 6th, at 2 P. M. The Sunday School teachers assemble on Friday, April 7th., at 7 P. M.

Announcements for Sunday, April 2nd.

RANDOLPH SCOTT HEADS ZANE GREY ROMANCE; FAREWELL TO ARMS FOR THURSDAY AND FRIDAY.

Zane Grey's famed action-romance, "Wild Horse Mesa", done into a movie with a cast headed by Randolph Scott, Sally Blane, Fred Kohler, Lucille La Verne, Charles Grapewin and Jim Thorpe, has been booked for the Colonial Theatre, where it shows Saturday and Sunday. The picture has as its central character Chas. Weymer, a hard-riding plainsman with his heart set on capturing a great white wild stallion, leader of a herd of wild horses. Scott plays the role. Scott's trouble with Kohler, head of a band of outlaws, comes to a head when he blocks the latter's attempt to capture the wild horses by extremely brutal means. Kohler goes back to town, represents himself as a kind-hearted business man interested only in the horses, gets the backing of Miss La Verne, her beautiful daughter, Miss Blane, and her eccentric brother, Grapewin. Together they set out to round up the equines. Meanwhile, Scott and Kohler have had other difficulties, following the latter's attempt to pin a robbery he has committed onto Scott's younger brother. Out on the mesa, Miss Blane and Scott meet and fall in love. And when he tells her and her mother what they have gotten into, they follow a dramatic, breath-taking climax, in which Kohler and Scott settle their accounts permanently, and from which Scott emerges with Miss Blane's love.

Although it is the first of his novels to reach the screen, "A Farewell to Arms", Ernest Hemingway's best-seller, which comes in picture form to the Colonial next Thursday and Friday, with Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper in starring roles and Adolphe Menjou at the head of the supporting cast, is the sixth published book. The screen version of "A Farewell to Arms" follows his novel closely. Miss Hayes plays the role of Catherine Barkley, the English nurse. Cooper is the young American, an officer in the Italian ambulance corps. Menjou is Rinaldi, his war-brother. The devastating love which develops between the American and the English girl reaches its climax in the picture as in the novel, in the hospital when their child is born.
